MODEL SUMMARY

CORE is raising consultants and client expectations! A next generation talent acquisition solution bridging the gap between high cost consultancies and interim project recruitment, by combining science, unrivalled connectivity and technology in identifying and hiring the most qualified candidate every time, accelerating the recruitment process to deliver optimal outcomes every time

CORE operates an Associate Partner and solution delivery model to attract and engage sought after consultants, able to manage risk, taking full accountability and delivery of specific project work

CORE Solutions Delivery bridges the gap between high cost consultancies and interim project recruitment, offering clients an agile, flexible, scalable and highly cost effective option of outsourcing non-core projects delivered to defined outcomes
